Chamber annual meeting

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce began the new decade with planning for their 1990 Annual Meeting high on the agenda at the January 3 meeting. Representatives of all Elk Point businesses, as well as the general public, will be invited to attend the event, scheduled for Thursday, February 8 at 7:00 p.m. in the Empress Banquet Room.

The Annual Meeting format will be much as it has been the past two years, with dinner, a business meeting at which the 1990 executive will be named and membership fees determined, and a guest speaker.

The Chamber is presently looking for members who are willing to serve on this year's executive, and will hopefully have a full slate of candidates to present at the Annual Meeting. As well as the positions of President, Vice President, Treasurer and Secretary, volunteers for the various committees are needed to guide the organization through the coming year.

Chamber President Vicki Brooker was delegated to attend the Annual Meeting of

First Baby Of The Decade

Elk Point Hospital's first arrival of the 1990s was the 8 lb., 10 oz. son of Patrick and Brenda Friesen of Elk Point. Jacob Randall Friesen was born at 8:53 a.m. on January 3, 1990, and is a baby brother for Megan. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Len Friesen of Vina and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Rath of St. Paul. Presenting gifts to the new arrival are Edith Mitchell of the LEARN Program, commemorating the International Year of Literacy, and HRL Lois Sharek of the Elk Point Order of Royal Purple.

Truck parking areas designated

Concerns expressed by local business owners over the absence of parking areas for large trucks in Elk Point were addressed by Town Council at their January 8 meeting, when Council designated four parking areas for these vehicles on a one month trial basis.

Skate-a-thon date change

Elk Point Skating Club has announced a change of date for their annual Skate-A-Thon, originally planned for Sunday, January 14. The event will now be held on Sunday, February 4, beginning at 11:00 a.m. Pledge sheets are available at both Elk Point Elementary School and F. G. Miller High School, or may be obtained by phoning Lee at 724-4450 or Sylvia at 724-4089.

The following areas are now available for truck parking: both sides of Railway Avenue east of Highway 41; the south side of Railway Avenue west of Highway 41 to the 50 Street intersection; on Town owned lots immediately east of the Fire Hall; (all of the preceding 24 hours a day) and the north side of 50 Avenue west of Highway 41, to the RCMP building. In all cases, no parking will be allowed where it will prohibit entry to driveways, or within 16 feet of a fire hydrant.

The truck parking issue was brought to Council's attention at the December 27 meeting, when ratepayer Steve Andri-shak was present to relate his concerns regarding the potential hazard of large vehicles parking in front of his property immediately east of Highway 41 on 50 Avenue. It has since been determined that there is a distance of 141 feet from the fire hydrant near the corner to Andri-shak's driveway, which is adequate to park several trucks, however existing by-laws prohibit parking any vehicle over 36 feet in length anywhere but in a designated large vehicle area. To date, the only area so designated was the CN property across Railway Avenue from the Elk Point Hotel.

Following the December 27 meeting, copies of the existing regulations were sent to several trucking firms whose drivers regularly stop in Elk Point for meals and rest stops. This sparked concern from business owners, who said that the drivers had told them they would no longer be able to stop in Elk Point because of the regulations being enforced. The businesses in turn contacted the Town to ask for consideration of a parking area for the trucks.

A second set of letters, informing the trucking firms of the newly designated areas, will be sent out immediately. 'We don't want to run business out of town, we just want the vehicles parked legally,' Mayor Bruce Kleeberger noted.

Council approves rezoning

Elk Point Town Council gave final reading Monday night to a bylaw permitting the rezoning of 30 acres of land in the north subdivision from Urban Reserve to DC1-Direct Control land use district, which would allow the Elk Point Agricultural Society to build an agricultural recreation area on the site, north of the Hilltop Motor Inn, Elk Point Baptist Church and the apartment complexes.

Over 20 people, including members of Council and administration, concerned rate-payers and Agricultural Society members, were on hand last Thursday evening at an information meeting hosted by the Ag Society in the Public Library, where plans for the development were outlined. A half mile race track, with infield and pens for rodeo stock and a grandstand for spectators, takes up roughly half of the area, while the rest has two outdoor riding rings with bleacher seating, a stabling area with washing facilities for show animals, an indoor pavilion for year-round use, and a large parking lot. A landscaped earth berm would separate the development from the residential area nearby, and Ag Society President Glen Harms has indicated that the entire site will be have an attractive and park-like setting. Harms answered questions on various concerns, including drainage, dust and noise, which it was felt could result from the development. Harms noted that the combination of berms and the excavated and gravel filled area would be more likely to solve than to cause runoff problems, while watering trucks are commonly used to keep race tracks dust free. Neither cattle or horse shows would produce significant amounts of dust or noise, it was noted, and these would make up a large part of the activities planned for the area.

At the public hearing which followed the information meeting, those present were briefed on the background of the area in question. The Town of Elk Point entered an agreement with Alberta Mortgage and Housing Corporation in the early 1980s to purchase the 80 acre parcel, as well as similar agreements for two parcels of industrial land east of Highway 41. The Town will be faced with a $345,347 bill for the unsold portion of the 80 acres by the middle of this decade, if the land is not developed by that time. In contrast, the current value of that land is only $36,000.

In May of last year, AMHC offered the land to the Town for $113,000, which equalled the market value plus one quarter of its cost, but the Town felt they could not absorb the $77,000 shortfall at that time. The land would be available to the Town at that price until the end of 1990. At the AUMA Convention in November, 1989, Council members in attendance were told that the land could be purchased for recreational purposes at the market value, which prompted the Town to approach the Ag Society to determine their interest in purchasing the land they require at the reduced price.

Along with the major debt burden which will face the Town if the land is not purchased, is a significant problem with servicing the area if it were to be used for residential development. To provide the increased water pressure necessary for residences built in that area, the Town would have to install costly and sophisticated pressure increasing stations.

Only one response to the advertising and letters to adjacent landowners was given at the hearing. David Bepalko read a letter to the Town from his parents, Pearl and Bill Bepalko, whose property abuts the land on the north side. The letter stated that this type of development does not belong in a residential area, as it would be disruptive to the residents, and would also significantly devalue land in the area. Bepalko added that he felt a development of this sort would result in problems with garbage, dust and noise, and urged Council to 'take a long hard look' before approving the rezoning for this purpose.

Planning Officer Charles Dack of Alberta Municipal Affairs was on hand to point out various concerns regarding the rezoning. These included the necessity of changing the Town's land use bylaw, which designates that area for future residential development. Dack also felt that the development would be in the way of a planned collector road through the north subdivision.

Other recreational options for the area were considered by the Town, but Mayor Bruce Kleeberger said he 'can't think of anything less obnoxious, that is not residential.' He added that the agricultural park 'does not replace or interfere with any other recreational development' in Elk Point.

Deputy Mayor Allan Frankiw added that the Mayor had approached the Ag Society even before the cut-back in price, because there are other, more attractive areas available for residential development which would not have prohibitive servicing costs, and because Council feared that the parcel in question could become a major burden to taxpayers in

The concerns expressed at the meeting were again discussed by Council on Monday evening, prior to giving the final two readings to the rezoning bylaw. Dack's concern with the artery road was unfounded, as this would run along the north side of the area in question, rather than through it. It was reiterated that servicing the area for residential use would be prohibitively expensive, whereas the water needs for the Ag Society could be provided at low cost with a small line and an individual pressure system. It was also noted that the demand for residential land has dropped to a mere fraction of what it was when the GMP was formulated.

'It would be an injustice to the taxpayers not to try to sell this land when we have a chance,' Deputy Mayor Frankiw stated, while Mayor Kleeberger added that 'for any other recreational development, the Town would be responsible [for the costs of development] and we don't have the money.'

Following the unanimous agreement with the final two readings, Council voted to have the Administration draft a bylaw for amendment of the General Municipal Plan, as it pertains to land use in the designated area, for the January 22 meeting of Council.

Also before Council at Monday's meeting was the appointment of new members to the Buckingham House Management Board and the Public Library Board. Only two applications, both from former members, were received for the four vacancies on the Buckingham House Board. Mrs. Lena Stepa was reappointed to the Board for a two year term, while Mrs. Bea Williams was reappointed for a three year term. The two, along with Council representative Alvina Schuhmacher, will carry on short-handed until further potential members are found. Council was asked to seek out people who may be interested in serving on the Board, before further advertising is done to fill the vacancies. Council endorsed the appointment of Irene O'Callaghan and Daphne Schnurer, and the re-appointment of Louise Krissa, to the Public Library Board, and Board Chairperson Adele Mandryk said her board members will 'beat the bushes' to find a volunteer to fill the fourth vacancy on the Board. The vacancy on the Municipal Airport Commission was tabled.

Administrator Pat Vincent reported that a total of 97.82 percent of 1989 taxes were collected by year end, leaving only $17,027 in current taxes unpaid, the 'best year end total in at least 10 years.'

Vincent also reported that the preparation of the 1989 financial statement is well underway, and will be completed as soon as some year-end figures are available.

Community Services news

By Stephen Montgomery, Community Services Director

This week's spotlight is on Nick Melnyk, the dedicated volunteer driver of the senior's transportation service. Sponsored by the Town of Elk Point, this service is available once a week; the first Wednesday of the month and every Thursday after that. Any senior in Elk Point can use the program for a small fee of $1.00. The van will pick them up at their homes and take them anywhere they wish in Elk Point. Requests for this service can be made to the community services office before 11:00 a.m. the day the van is to operate. Just phone 724-3800.

Community services is pleased to be co-sponsoring a presentation by the University of Alberta Peer Education Theatre Program at F.G.

Miller High School for students in grades 10, 11, and 12, on January 12. The objective of the program is the prevention of teen pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases, including AIDS. The program is designed to educate youth about decision making skills, dealing with media and peer pressure and parent-teen communication.

The FCSS snow removal program is now operating. If you are a senior who would like to hire a student to shovel your sidewalks or driveway, or if you are student who would like to earn some extra money working outdoors, call the office at 724-3800.

The ballet and jazz dance program will start on Tuesday, Jan. 16. It's not too late to register your child for either ballet or jazz dance instruction. Lessons will be held every Tuesday until mid-May and are for children age 4 and older.

Anyone interested in cross-country ski instruction or day touring should phone Stephen, at 724-3800.

Telerama plans

Plans for the upcoming Associated Canadian Travellers Mini Telerama weekend, to be held in Elk Point on January 26 and 27, are nearing completion. A number of community groups have offered their assistance with various parts of the program, which starts with a dance hosted by F. G. Miller High School Students' Union on Friday evening, and continues with a full day of events on Saturday.

The Mini Telerama itself takes place in the High School gymnasium on Saturday afternoon, and will be followed by a supper in the Elks Hall, entertainment and a beerfest.

Watch next week's issue for further details.

Ten Years Of Pizzas

Marie Loughran (centre) was honored by the management and staff of Dave's Pizza, Elk Point last week on her tenth anniversary with the firm. Marie began her pizza making career with Lloyd and Carol Metz back in the little building next to the Town Office in 1980. Sharon Smith and Leona Bretzer add their congratulations to the floral arrangements and engraved plaque presented to mark the occasion. Best wishes, Marie, for ten more years of great pizza!

Lodge hosts Christmas party

By Lois Ramer
Activity Coordinator

December 14 was the occasion of the annual Christmas Party at the Elk Point Heritage Lodge. From my perspective, it was a party to be remembered and not easily replaced, at least not 'til December of this year.

The ingredients of this 'family and friends' type celebration of the birth of Jesus were, first of all, the coming to our lodge of many family members and friends of the residents, the colorful costumes and beautiful dance of 14 local children and youths, Ukrainian style, the joyful singing of carols, a special Ukrainian solo by Caroline Poloway, Willie Osinchuk and Leonard Sawak on guitar and fiddle accompanying the energetic dancers from toddlers to seniors, much tastebud-satisfying food prepared by family members of residents, lodge auxiliary members and lodge staff. Also included in the festivities were some rousing games of pool and shuffleboard, and Santa's visit to the children.

I was made aware again of God's goodness and love in sending Jesus to this earth, of His goodness and love in creating such beautiful people in this community and providing time for such a fun party.

A big thank you to families and friends of the residents, auxiliary members, the dancers, entertainers, residents and staff of the Elk Point Heritage Lodge for a most worthwhile evening.

Celebrating The Season

Residents at Heritage Lodge celebrated the Christmas season with their families and friends at a well attended Christmas party on December 14. A variety of entertainment, and holiday food donated by families and lodge staff added to the festive occasion.

Cross-country skiing news

"If it's got to be cold, might as well have snow" is the philosophy of more and more people who are discovering the sport of cross-country skiing. X-C skiing provides an entirely fresh perspective. Animals that remain hidden in other seasons tell many stories by the trails they leave in the snow. Skiing compares favorably to hiking because the trails are travelled swiftly and smoothly. An informal club has been formed and everyone is invited to join. All ages and ability levels are welcome. For more information call Stephen (724-4409), Sheila (724-2007) or Marvin (724-2061).

A schedule of skiing events has been drawn up:

Sun. Jan. 14 - Afternoon skiing at the Bjornstads' (724-2061).

Sun. Jan 21 - Afternoon skiing at the Hawkins' (724-2007).

Fri. Jan. 26 - Skicade Clinic, Elk Point Elementary; Racing Clinic, 4:00 - 6:00, E.P.E.; Social Evening, 7:30 - 10:00, E.P. Library.

All events are subject to weather conditions.

Winning weekend for Elks

Elk Point Elks Hockey Club recorded a pair of wins this past weekend, with a 9-0 shutout over Hillmond All-stars on Friday night and a 5-3 win over Marwayne Comets on Sunday afternoon.

An excellent crowd was on hand for the Friday game. Terry Wozniak opened the scoring just under 3 minutes into the game, with assists by Kerry Loughran and Lane Lorenson. Vic Stepa and Kerry Loughran scored two more, 36 seconds apart, later in the period, with Terry Wozniak, Mike Boratynec and Lane Lorenson providing the assists. Play throughout the period was largely kept in the Hillmond end, with a strong Elks defense sending all onslaughts back to their source.

This trend continued in the second period, during which Kerry Loughran scored a pair of goals, and Pat Lamoreux and Allan Ference scored singles. Assists in the second period came from Kerry Loughran, Mike Boratynec (2), Lane Lorenson, Terry Wozniak and goalie Duane Wolanuk.

Murray Cochrane's goal within the first two minutes of the final period, and a second by Pat Lamoreux in the last two minutes brought the final score to 9-0, with assists coming from Kerry Loughran, Terry Wozniak and Willie Lesyk. Hillmond remained scoreless, in spite of a few tense minutes when penalties gave them a two man advantage, as Wolanuk effectively repelled all shots on the Elk Point goal. He was rewarded for his efforts with 30 litres of gas from Elk Point Esso for the shutout, while Kerry Loughran received a similar award from Hillside Texaco for his hat trick.

Winners in the 50-50 draw were John Wozniak, Diane Hawryluk, Lionel Romanchuk, Christine Wozniak, Dean Kozicky and Dwayne Moneta.

Elks 5, Comets 3

Sunday's game once again featured Duane Wolanuk in the net, as the Elks took on Marwayne Comets in an afternoon contest. The Elks again opened the scoring, with Mike Boratyne hitting the mark just under two minutes into the game, off assists by Willie Lesyk and Richard Marcoux. Marwayne's first goal came some six minutes later, when Tom Burke caught a drop pass from Dale Milne and fired it past Wolanuk. Grant Buldoc also assisted on the goal. Alain Leclerc was the next Elks scorer, assisted by Murray Cochrane and Vic Stepa, while Tom Burke and Grant Buldoc again combined their efforts to bring the score to 2-all by the end of the period.

The second period was scoreless, with countless shots on both goals to no avail, including a penalty shot awarded to one Marwayne player.

Marwayne's Lyle Manley scored 57 seconds into the final period, off an assist by Kelly Greenhough, to bring the visitors out in front for the first time in the game. The Comets held the lead for just over 7 minutes, until Terry Wozniak, assisted by Richard Marcoux and Allan Loughran, evened the score. An unassisted goal by Kerry Loughran, and the game's final goal, by Willie Lesyk, assisted by Terry Wozniak and Richard Marcoux, brought the final score to 5-3 in the Elks' favor. Gold star pins were presented to the three stars of the game: Murray Hozack and goalie Fred Culford from the Comets, and Elks' goalie Duane Wolanuk.

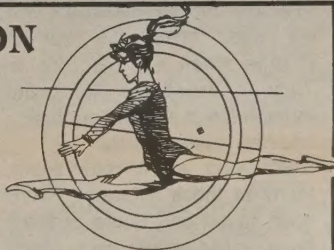

The 50-50 draw winners were Doug Fisher, Leanne Drobot, John Wozniak Jr., Sharon Onciul, Larry Lorenson and Marie Loughran.

Card of Thanks

I would like to thank Dr. McNeilly, The Nurses and Staff of the Elk Point Municipal Hospital for the special care given to me during my stay. Also, thanks to friends, for the flowers, basket of fruit, for the many cards and visitors and special thanks to Bill Schuhmacher for his daily visits and ride home from the hospital. It was very much appreciated.

Sincerely, Morris Cooper

In Our View

Out of the fog

A beautiful dawn, hidden in a thick blanket of fog, met Elk Point residents this Monday morning. A glorious scene of blue, gold and rose was spread across the southeastern sky...but those whose homes were shrouded in the fog couldn't tell it from a grey and gloomy day.

Being illiterate must be something like being in that fog.

The world is full of printed matter: books, newspapers, food containers, signs, bus schedules, price tags, menus, greeting cards, tags on clothing, directions on appliances. All those letters and figures are just a jumble of meaningless marks to a full four million Canadians, who view the world much differently to those of us who can read and write.

To us, those printed words are the instructions to virtually all we do, whether it's to bake a cake, deposit money in the bank, check out the owner's manual for the new coffeepot, find out what's happening in the newspaper, or what's on sale at the supermarket. If we could not understand the meaning of those symbols, we couldn't do many of the things we now take for granted. We might not even know the meaning of danger signs, the difference between a bottle of aspirins and a bottle of vitamin pills, which tap had hot water, or whether we should go in or out a certain door. We wouldn't know what to order in a restaurant, or if we were given the correct change when we paid for it. Truly, it would be like going through life in a fog of confusion and not understanding.

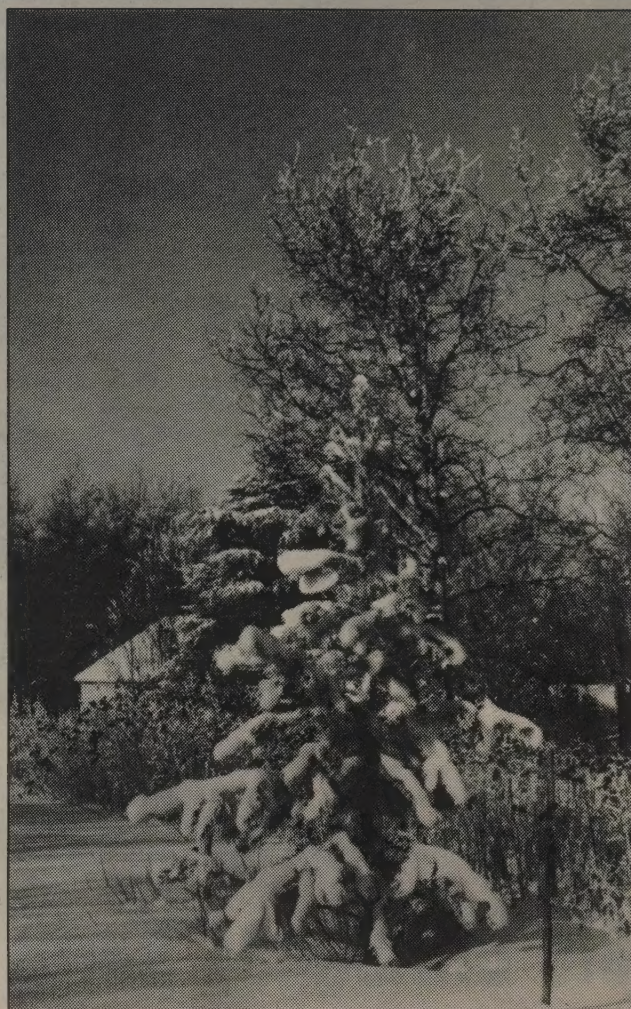

Shocking as it may seem, many of these illiterates HAVE been to school. Some of them have graduated from high school, and have even gone on to college. However, somewhere along the line, the educational system failed to get through to these people in a way that would enable them to apply the skills they have learned to their social or working environment.

However, it is not too late to learn. Adult literacy programs have been set up to do just this. Volunteer tutors throughout the lakeland region are part of the LEARN program, and will teach the skills of reading and writing to those who are now without these, in complete confidentiality, and in a supportive and encouraging manner.

Not being able to read or write has nothing to do with being stupid. Many of us cannot do trigonometry, or program computers, or even crochet a centerpiece. We aren't stupid either...we just haven't learned those particular skills. Reading and writing are skills, too, and some people have not been fortunate enough to learn them. When they do, and the fog is lifted, they will find a beautiful world of the the printed word just waiting for them to enjoy.

R.I.P.

As we were poring over the back issues, including those of the Elk Point Sentinel, one of the two rival newspapers (the other being Elk Point Reflections) with which the Journal shared news coverage at the beginning of the '80s, we heard the sad news of the passing earlier this year of the Sentinel's publisher, Erik Neilsen. Neilsen was a hardworking and deep-searching newspaperman, who printed things as he saw them and occasionally brought forth the ire of the subjects of his stories. He was a colorful individual who at times served as the President of Elk Point Chamber of Commerce and the Centennial Hockey League's statistician. He was a writer of thought provoking editorials and voluminous amounts of news from a huge area of the Lakeland, and was held in high esteem by his employees. To a new reporter for a rival paper, just starting out, he was a beacon to follow into the minefield of small town news coverage. Rest in Peace, Erik.

Today is the day we live

By Irene Magnusson

A few words of wisdom fell from the learned lips of famed radio and television personality, Roy Bonisteel, that I happened to catch the other day, actually a new way of saying the old adage we could all use today. He was not fussy, he said in his own words, about all the predictions of gloom and doom we are fed daily, regarding our future here on our only earth, but feels we must live TODAY. He likens Yesterday to a cancelled cheque, Tomorrow to a promissory note, with Today being the only cash we ever get to spend.

He is so right, of course. Our own little saying, heard here and there all my life is: Yesterday is gone, tomorrow never comes; today is the day we live. So true it hardly needs saying. Yet it's surprising how many people live on in the past, or wait eternally for tomorrow, while neglecting the glories and wonders of today.

So, how can I let not just a new year float in, but - my goodness - a new Decade (!) commence without my two cents worth of predictions?

I predict, unfortunately, that people will go on and on rehabing the past ten years, possibly for months longer, as they try to rationalize what has gone by with what is yet to come. And I will be among them (I'm no saint!), trying to prove that most of the mistakes of the past could have been avoided - if only we had been as bright as we are now or will be in the future. Phooey! We are only humans, and will continue to make human errors. But unless we are completely dense, we should learn a little from them.

It's okay to look back and learn from our mistakes, to try to figure out what we did wrong and try to do better in the future - such as all this "destruction and ruination of our ecology and environment" we are faced with today, and have suddenly, it seems, become aware of. There have been some, and I'd like to include myself among them, who have noticed this trend for a long time, and deplored it. Some have even tried to do something about it, spoken out loudly against it, but much more is bound to be accomplished when more shoulders are put to the wheel, more brows wrinkled in thought, and a lot more will shown to redeem our beleaguered planet.

Closer to home, we can all face the excessive garbage problem and do what we can to reduce it. When I think of all the mounds of so-called disposable diapers now mounding up the garbage heaps, all the lakeshores, parks, roadsides cluttered with them, and then I think how utterly easy laundry is now compared to the carry-the-water, soak-and-rinse, scrub-on-washboard, boil, rinse-in-more-carry-yourself-water, hang-on-line and hope for sunny-breezy hours to dry them all - in short the good old days, I really have very little patience with anyone who is too weak to automatically launder and dry those little squares of material.

But there are so many such 'conveniences' that end up cluttering the landscape. All that plastic, tin cans, bottles, and so on - so easy to throw it from your vehicle window, isn't it? But much of it is destined to last forever, once it hits the ground. I can see nothing for it but to start using our brains a bit more, to consider what we are doing with so much trash, and try to do better. And we

Letter to the Editor

Tragic holiday

Dear Editor:

Over the seasonal holiday in the quiet town of Elk Point while myself and family were visiting relatives, tragedy struck.

The following letter, which I hope you will print, is a warning to all that maybe Elk Point isn't as sleepy as we thought.

Out of good conscience and fear, I cannot remain silent about this, to do that would seem like I condone it. How dare you? You know who you are, this was no unfortunate accident but a deliberate, violent, fatal act against one of God's creatures.

My memories of Boxing Day this year will be very different from any other. The most vivid of these; trying to hold her spasming body against mine to keep away the fear and pain in both of us. Racing to St. Paul in a vain attempt to save her but knowing and fearing in my heart that we were too late. Hoping at least to ease her suffering. The heaviness of waiting till the next day to see if she had made it through the night. Finally, the phone rings and we knew that she hadn't. How dare you?!

Kayla was with us for three years; a loyal companion and protector of myself and family. She had ingested enough poison to kill her, a 100 lb. dog, in less than 24 hours even with a Vet's attention and medicines. What would have happened if a child had found it first? Kayla was not a wanderer and she found it very near where we were staying.

My feelings go out to another family in Elk Point for Kayla was not the only one to suffer this way over the short space of the holidays.

The sleepy little town that I lived in for ten years is no more. Wake-up, Elk Point. You have some sick people in your midst, and they are trying to play God.

Musical Memories

Many Elk Point and district residents will remember the Wyatt Choirsters, and the many talented music students who were ably instructed by Mrs. Yvonne Wyatt. Here, pint-sized pianist Tobey Conrad performs at the Choirsters' Farewell Concert in May, 1981.

Local Insurance broker wins top CIAB award

Victor Paul Stepa of Elk Point Insurance, Elk Point is the 1989 recipient of the James Knoll Memorial Award for superior achievement in the Alberta insurance industry's CAIB program.

Recently established by the Insurance Brokers Association of Alberta, the CAIB designation is an intermediate level designation for general insurance brokers which involves a rigorous, three semester program of home and classroom study. The program requires a minimum of 12 to 16 hours per week of home study plus classroom participation and a 3.5 hour exam at the conclusion of each semester.

Stepa is one of the 34 individuals who achieved the CAIB designation in 1989. A total of 71 Alberta brokers have achieved the CAIB designation since it was created four years ago.

"We instituted the James Knoll Memorial Award for CAIB students," says IBAA President Randy McDonald, "because we wanted to recognize the efforts of our brokers who have made the commitment to improve themselves and better serve the insurance buying public."

"And, we wanted to recognize the contribution to the insurance industry of James Knoll, the man who carried the primary responsibility for the introduction in 1974 of the first brokers licensing course brought into Alberta. Mr. Knoll was President of the Provincial Association in 1974 and was actively involved in the Qualifications and Licensing Programs as a lecturer and moderator."

The premier designation for brokers writing general insurance in Canada is the Chartered Insurance Broker (CIB) designation. To achieve this senior designation, a broker must have been actively involved in the general insurance business for five consecutive years, pass a four-hour technical exam and a five-hour survey exam.

The Insurance Brokers Association of Alberta is a non-profit, trade association representing the majority of independent property and casualty insurance brokers in Alberta. Independent brokers act as the link between insurance companies and the consumer, and market and service the insurance plans of many different companies.

Ukrainian Dance Club

By Margaret Bayduza

The Elk Point Ukrainian Dancers are pleased to announce that we are now the Elk Point Metelytsia Dancers. Our thanks to Ken and Debbie for giving us the name Metelytsia. It means "Snowstorm". Metelytsia refers both to a dance and to some winter games played on frozen lakes and ponds. Originally, the dance was very literally connected to the ideas of winter and snow. Even now, the formations, such as the Kuchuhura (snowdrift) and the lively tempo still symbolically connect it with a snowstorm. The Metelytsia is over a thousand years old. It has evolved into a social dance for any time of the year, and the more participants, the better. We are proud to have Metelytsia, with its roots in ancient Ukraine, for our name.

We now have a trophy case to display the various trophies and awards we have won through the years. Thank you to Walter Saranchuk for building it for us. Also thanks to Dave's Pizza, where the case is on display. We encourage everyone to go down and check it out.

waste, when we spend time and emotions in regret, or sorrow, or pining after something forever gone (such as our waistline, or youth) or lost loved ones. Can we bring these things back? Can we re-do our past mistakes, or re-live our lives? Of course, we cannot. So whining over the past, even for governments, is a waste of time. True, some wrongs can be righted, occasionally restitution made, apologies offered, but for someone to sit around feeling sorry for themselves over some real or fancied wrong done them ages ago is - in my opinion, an utter waste of time and energy. Lift up your chin, lift up your eyes. Look to the future, fine, but get out and LIVE - today.

All of which is my long-winded way of saying Happy New Year to one and all. May your plans for today be reasonable and all come true. Oh, yes. Happy Birthday to me.

Lioness club urge paper recycling

You Can Make a Difference: Individual choices and actions do make a difference. Let's take one small example: Your family's supply of newspapers, put into a recycling bin instead of a garbage bin, can be reprocessed economically into insulation for a house that will cut energy losses without cutting down trees for raw material. Thus, there are savings in forest resources, nonrenewable energy resources (both from reduced home heating needs and less energy required in the insulation manufacturing process), and land resources, because landfill life is prolonged. Air pollution is reduced because less fuel is burned in the insulated house and less energy is required in the insulation manufacturing plant when a recycled product is used. Water pollution from the plant is also cut by using recycled paper, and land pollution is reduced because newspapers don't end up in the dump. There are also economic savings for the homeowner. Such resource and environmental savings, multiplied by a million other householder across Canada, will be significant. In fact, it is only by individuals acting in an environmentally responsible way that the environment can be saved.

Newspaper bins located at: Scout Hall (old courthouse building).

An important announcement about Unemployment Insurance

The Government of Canada recently presented to Parliament a series of amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act (UIA). The purpose of the proposed amendments is to improve existing legislation and to provide additional funds for programs and job training in areas critical to Canada's economic future. Major improvements include additional maternity/parental benefits and the extension of coverage to people who choose to work beyond age 65.

Although passed by the House of Commons on November 6th, 1989, Bill C-21 is still under consideration by the Senate and will not become law on December 31.

Under one section of the current law, workers may qualify for regular UI benefits with at least 10 to 14 weeks of work during the previous year. That section of the law expires January 6th, 1990 and until amendments to the Act are adopted the following interim rule applies:

Anyone making a claim for regular UI benefits that would have started on or after January 7, 1990, must have worked a minimum of 14 weeks during the last year to qualify.

Award Winning Record Book

Regional 4-H Council President Dorine Kuzma presents Shelley Bespalko of the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club with a certificate honoring her first place standing in the Senior Beef Project Record Book competition. Other local winners were Kim Kurek, St. Paul Light Horse Club, and Tracey Bendixen of the Dewberry Beef Club.

Elk Point 4-H Multi-club

Our Club is very proud of our Senior Beef member, Shelley Bespalko. Shelley has achieved her goal by winning first place in the Regional 4-H Beef Project Book Competition. The Project Book consists of: Member Information; Names of fellow 4-H members and Leaders in the Club for 1988-89; Club Agenda and Calendar; Club meetings, activities, news clippings; photos; Description and Information of Beef Project; General Beef Information; Inventory, Health, Monthly and Expense Records; Achievement Day Records; Show Records of District Show and Sale; and a Research Study.

On December 13, 1989 our members and several parents gathered together at the FCSS Parking Lot for a hay ride which proceeded to the hospital where they decorated a Christmas Tree outside for the birds so that the patients could observe throughout the winter. Then the members went into the hospital and sang carols for some of the patients. They also went on and sang at the Heritage Lodge, Buckingham House and Fort George Manor. The 4-H members wish to express their sincere thanks for the treats they received at each place. After this the club enjoyed their hot chocolate and hot dogs at the school and then proceeded with a short meeting.

Jodie Vogel, Clara Drobot, and Michael Yuschyshyn volunteered to assist on District Level Committees.

Our Club is planning a trip to Calgary on January 4 and 5 to tour Western Breeders and the Heritage Mushroom Farms.

A bottle drive is being planned for in January. Our Christmas Party, on December 28, was enjoyed by family and friends at the United Church in Elk Point. We had a Potluck Supper, sang Christmas Carols, had a gift exchange, and played several games.

Our next meeting is Wednesday, January 17, 1990 at 7:30 p.m. at the F.G. Miller High School.

In Memoriam

BABENEK

In loving memory of my Dear Husband, Father, Grandfather, and Great Grandfather, FRED
BABENEK, who passed away three years ago, January 2, 1987.

There was not time to say good-bye.
The day you went away.

You left us all so suddenly,
Three years ago.

We hold our tears when we speak
your name,

But the aches in our hearts remain
the same.

No one knows the sorrows we share,

When the family meets and you're not there.

Always loved and sadly missed by your Wife Nettie and family.

BODNAR

In loving memory of my dear son and brother
John Stan Bodnar who passed away on January 14, 1989.

Deep in our hearts there's a picture,
More precious than silver or gold.
Tis a picture of a dear son and brother,
Whose memory will never grow old.
Deep in my heart lies a picture,
Of a loved one laid to rest.

In memories frame I shall keep it,
Because he was one of the best.

Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days.

Sincere and kind in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.

Today recalls sad memories,
Of our dear son and brother gone to rest.

And the ones who think of him today,
Are the ones who loved him best.

One year today our brother and son was called,
To his eternal rest.

Gone where the angels sing so sweet,
And taken when God knew best.

We miss him here so very much,
His presence oft seem nigh.

Where no one says good-bye.

BODNAR

In loving memory of my dear son John Stan
Bodnar who passed away January 14, 1989.

One year has gone by today son, I was always happy to see you stop by every morning for coffee before you went to work. Then you would also stop by in the evening. I miss that very much.

Son, I miss your phone calls, you used to phone me every day. You never missed a day to call and see how I was.

Son, I miss your happy smile. Son, you have achieved so much in so little time. No one has ever done so much as you have son in so little time.

I am very proud of you son, I was always proud of everything you did, you did it so well.

Son, you were so kind, true, loyal, helpful and understanding. Son, you mean the whole world to me, there will be no one else to take your place.

Son, you don't know how much I miss you. I think of you everyday. You will always be in my mind, forever.

Very much missed by your loving mom, Josephine Bodnar.

What's news at the library?

Books should be a part of our children's lives long before they are introduced to the library. Here are few suggestions for starting a home library, particularly if you have children under the age of 4, taken from "the Read Aloud Handbook" by Jime Trelease which is available here at the library.

Divide your books into two categories: expensive and inexpensive. The higher priced or fragile books to be placed up on shelves out of reach, but still within sight, as a kind of goal. On lower shelves place less expensive and if possible, more durable books. If the replacement cost is low enough you'll have no qualms about children "playing" with books. This "playing" is an important factor in a child's attachment to books. Where space permits, have many of the home library books positioned on the shelf with the cover facing out. These covers will stimulate the child's imagination and he/she will wonder what's inside.

NEW BOOKS

"Empire of the Bay" by Peter C. Newman - The epic story of the fur-trading company that built a nation. In words and with hundreds of breathtaking pictures, best-selling author Peter C. Newman recounts the enthraling 329 year saga of "the Bay".

"Broken Eagle" by Chad Oliver - a blazing story of the old west and the two proud people, a Cheyenne warrior and a cavalry Officer, who fought for the land with their passions and their lives.

"Shattered Images" by Ed Planer - the real stories break behind the cameras in the high-powered world of television news.

"696 Silly School Jokes & Riddles" by Joseph Rosebloom - a collection of 696 jokes, riddles and tongue twisters on the subject of school.

Several new childrens' books in the library are: "Bedtime, Zachary"; "Beady Bear"; "Sadie and the Snowman"; "Septimus Bean" and "P.J., The Spoiled Bunny".

We have received some new music cassettes. They are: The motion picture soundtrack of "Batman", the original soundtrack of "Beaches" by Bette Midler; "Skid Row" which contains "Sweet Little Sister" and "Big Gun"; and a children's music cassette, "Elephant Show Record" by Sharon, Lois & Bram.

Fire is used to describe that outgoing energy which applies to the real and physical world. There are three signs given to it. Aries, Leo, and Sagittarius. People with the Sun in any of these signs find themselves with the energy to get things going. They are at their best when making a personal contribution to a situation and they expect to see some tangible results for their efforts. They are sensitive to the emotional content of anything, but that is not their prime concern, and so they tend to let it look after itself while they busy themselves with the actual matter in hand. Wherever you meet fire energy in action, it will be shown as an individual whose personal warmth and enthusiasm are having a direct effect on his surroundings. A distinction has to be made there, between the real world and the intangible world. If this is done, we have four kinds of energy: outgoing and collecting, physical and mental. These four kinds of energy have been recognized for a long time, and were given names to describe the way they work more than two thousand years ago. These are elements.

All energy in the cosmos can be described in terms as: Fire, Earth, Air, Water. More next week.

Aries

Don't take any shortcuts Aries. Charge ahead and win! You know the rewards for hard work. You will gain lots of recognition, responsibility, and status in your career. You don't need super-vision. Your individuality and uniqueness shines for you.

Taurus

If you're not married, you may meet someone who will completely transform your life. You will be absolutely fascinated by this person. Travel appeals to you. You love the adventure and knowledge you gain but love to return to Rome. The domestic front is your desire.

Gemini

You have an enormous willpower especially around January 16, when Saturn sextiles Pluto. Good time to break bad habits, smoking, eating wrong, little too much drinking. You'll face major ups and downs with finances but it's important to be patient now.

Cancer

You have a wonderful artistic talent. Your creativity on all levels increases tremendously at this time. Don't be heavy-handed with a young one who is very sensitive. You have the excitement of a very stimulating partnership. It is solid, stable and will get stronger.

Leo

Self-sufficiency should be your primary goal in order to become more independent and more in control of your life. There will be changes in a relationship with a parent. You need always, the security of a steady paycheck, nine-to-five job. It sets your lifestyle.

Virgo

Small talk is no longer your cup of tea. You need something more influential in your life. You love the challenge, excitement in an up and down relationship. Maybe it's the fun of making up. The trick is to balance romance with practicality.

Libra

Continue to do whatever it is you're doing. It's all right! Your financial picture is going to change. You have become more confident. Love is bumpy with lots of personal snags that make you angry. Your charm and tact help you to get along. Don't worry, take it one day at a time.

Scorpio
